Four National Guard Divisions Called Into U. S. Service

Units Aren't Identified by Defense Heads

Mobilization of Manpower Speeded

By JERRY KORN

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—The nation's ground forces will be strengthened this month by the addition of four National Guard division and some smaller units.

They were ordered into federal service—but not identified yesterday by Secretary of Defense Johnson.

At the same time, he said the first and second Marine divisions—the former already en route to Korea—will be brought to full strength, and two Marine reserve squadrons called up for active duty.

Plans also were reported underway to strengthen the Navy's air power and to put more four-engined bombers into the sky over Korea.

Members of the house appropriations committee said President Truman will ask congress soon for a new appropriation of $950,000,000 to buy planes for the Navy.

Planes Doubled

They said the new request—just about doubling the number of planes the Navy expected to buy this year—will be in addition to the extra $10,500,000,000 Mr. Truman asked last week for armed forces spending in the year ending next June 30.

The Air Force announced yesterday that bombers—identified by an official as B-29s and B-50s—are being sent to Korea. The B-50s is a later version of the B-29, with more powerful engines and other improvements.

The announcement did not say how many planes are involved in the move, nor did it say where they will come from.

Johnson's announcement concerning the National Guard did not name the units involved. Besides the four divisions, he said, two regimental combat teams and some supporting units will be called up by Sept. 1.

Defense officials said the guard units would be identified publicly after they had been notified of their activation.

There are 27 National Guard

Prices Received by Farmers on Increase

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 1—(AP)—Prices received by Illinois farmers rose nearly seven per cent during the month ended July 15, the state-federal agriculture departments reported today.

The sharpest increase was 28 per cent for the fruit price index. The all crops index was four per cent higher than on June 15.

Corn, soybeans, hogs and beef cattle were at the highest price since the last half of 1948.

Corn at $1.42 a bushel was up seven cents over mid-June. Soybeans increased 10 cents to $2.04 a bushel.

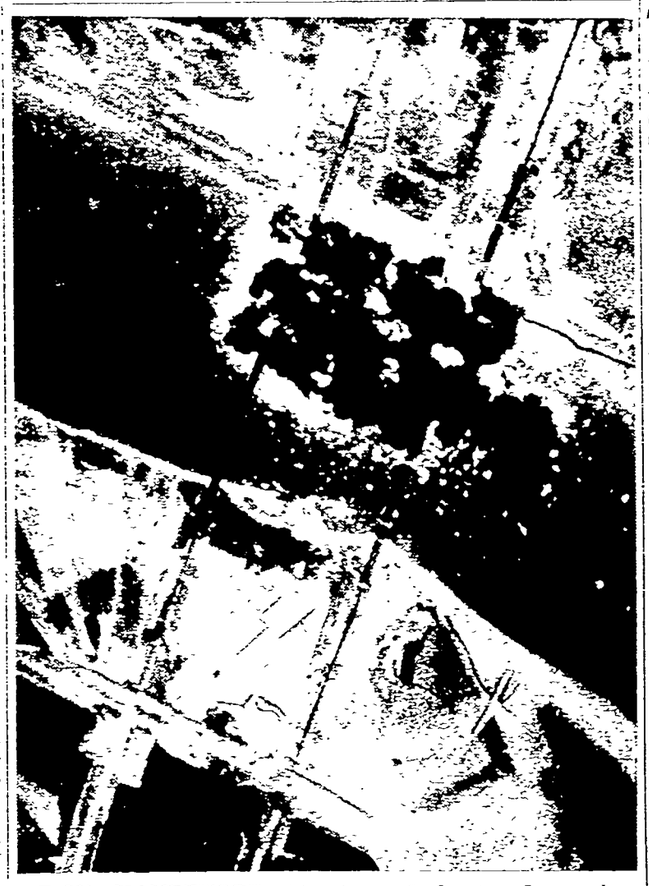
Hogs rose to $20.80 per hundredweight, up $3.20. Beef cattle at $26.60 per hundredweight represented an 80 cent gain.

Sugar So Plentiful He Gives It Away!!

Chicago, Aug. 1—(AP)—Motorists who buy eight gallons of gasoline at a south side service station during the next week will get a pound of sugar free.

"There's plenty of sugar," said Milton Lambert, station owner. "Hoarding it is silly."

Truman for 'Stand By' Home Front Control Powers



B-29's HANDIWORK—Ten tons of bombs from air force B-29's severed these two important rail bridges near Packchon in North Korea.

Tells Senator He Would Give Such Laws OK

President's Nod All Committee Wants

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—President Truman said today he has no objection to enactment of stand-by powers to control wages and prices, and to ration consumer goods.

Mr. Truman set out his position in a letter to Senator Maybank (D-SC), chairman of the senate banking committee. That group is now working on controls legislation.

Waited for Nod

The President's nod of consent made it virtually certain that congress would put in his hands the power to clamp on wage-price-rationing whenever he feels they are needed.

Sentiment among the legislators for giving him that authority has been growing ever since Bernard Baruch, a mobilization adviser in two world wars, made a strong plea last week for all-out economic mobilization.

About the same time the White House made public Mr. Truman's letter to Maybank, house Republican leaders came out for handing the President stand-by, but not mandatory, powers in the rationing and price-wage fields.

GOP Agrees

After a meeting of the house GOP policy committee, Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts told newsmen "the consensus was that the powers should be on a standby basis, with the President having authority to put them into effect when he thinks they are needed."

Mr. Truman's letter went to Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the house banking committee as well as to Maybank.

In it, the President said he refrained from proposing wage, price and distribution controls to congress "because it seemed more important to obtain quick action on the powers contained" in his proposed defense production bill.

Lists Conditions

He went on to say he has no objections to addition of standby wage-price-rationing powers but he listed four conditions.

1. These should be supplementary to the production and credit controls first asked.

2. They must not delay action

ANTI-LEOPOLD STRIKERS RIOT—Mounted police race forward to break up a riot of anti-Leopold strikers in Liege, Belgium. One of the horses has fallen to the ground, pinning its rider. Three persons were killed and two wounded in the clash between police and strikers.

Leopold Offers Slow-Motion Abdication; Tension Is Eased

By GODFREY ANDERSON

Brussels, Belgium, Aug. 1—(AP)—King Leopold III bowed to the threat of civil war today and offered a slow-motion abdication which threw the thorny royal question back into the lap of parliament.

Peace-minded Belgians hoped the king's offer would ease the critical tension which had mounted in recent weks. Many Brussels citizens feared, though, that Socialist leaders of the anti-Leopold movement might not be able to control their forces.

King Only in Name

Leopold, in a broadcast statement early today, said he would ask parliament to vote a delegation of his powers to his son, 19-year-old Prince Baudouin. Leopold would remain king in name only.

The king implied a promise of abdication with these words.

"This attribution of royal powers to Prince Baudouin seems to me a necessary step towards the solution which ought to clear the way for accession of the crown prince to the throne when he reaches his civil majority (at 21) if, as I hope and desire, the reconciliation promised about my son takes place."

Baudouin will be 21 on Sept. 7, 1951.

Some anti-Leopold Socialist leaders termed the king's offer "satisfactory." However, the Trade Union Federation, which had sponsored widespread strikes demanding abdication, called for its regional committees to meet for a fresh evaluation of the new situation.

Leopold had offered yesterday to abdicate, then qualified his offer with conditions the Socialists and Liberals termed unacceptable. His latest move came as Brussels already waited behind closed shutters for a great motorized protest march on the capital today by thousands of strikers.

Cancel March

Organizers of the march called it off immediately after the broadcast of the king's message. But the marchers were already in motion and some had arrived in Brussels.

Leopold's latest offer was the same he made April 15 when Belgium's opposing political parties were negotiating for a solution of the royal crisis. It was rejected by Socialists and Liberals because the king refused to promise to leave the country while Baudouin held the royal authority.

The statement today made no mention of what the king planned in this respect.

Roy De Werff, Dr. Irving Katz and Paul James were elected senior vice commanders.

State Fair to Use Radar for Rain Warnings

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 1—(AP)—Officials of the Illinois State Fair have worked out a rainstorm warning system they hope will keep fair visitors from being caught with their umbrellas down or stowed in a car some place.

The key mechanism is a field radar unit to be operated at nearby Capital Airport by the State Water Survey division.

H. W. Elliott, fair manager, said today the radar equipment will detect approaching rainstorms within a 100-mile radius. When one threatens to drift over the fairgrounds a warning will be broadcast over loudspeakers.

The fair will be held Aug. 11-20.

Young Mother Dies After Child's Birth

After giving birth to a daughter, a 17-year-old Rock Falls mother died Monday in KSB hospital.

She was Mrs. Richard Gilbert. Doctors said the baby, Catherine Marie, is doing well. Mrs. Gilbert was the former Donna Faley.

Mrs. Gilbert, the daughter of Michael and Veronica Faley, was born in Dixon on October 31, 1932. She married Richard Gilbert, on October 23, 1948, in Clinton, Iowa. He works at the Parrish-Alford Wire company in Rock Falls.

Besides her husband and daughter, she is survived by her mother, a sister, Margaret Faley, and two brothers, James and Michael, all of Dixon.

Funeral services will be Wednesday at 9:30 a.m. in Memorial chapel, the Rev. Harry Shiffer, pastor of the Christian church, Rock Falls, officiating. Burial will be in Chapel Hill.

To Crackdown On Reluctant Registrants

Chicago, Aug. 1—(AP)—Delinquent Illinois draft registrants have been sternly warned by Selective Service officials they face immediate induction in their present classifications.

Col. Paul G. Armstrong, Illinois Selective Service director, said yesterday that men who have failed to notify their draft boards of any change of status—such as marriage—must do so within one week after receiving notice that they have passed their pre-induction examination or face induction.

No Excuses

Armstrong also said that men who fail to report because they are married or liable to determent on other grounds will be inducted after the seven-day deadline, regardless of any excuse for tardiness in notifying boards of change in status.

Armstrong said the 313 Chicago men who already have successfully passed their physical tests will be subject to call beginning Aug. 21.

Meanwhile, Fifth Army headquarters planned to boost its examinations of potential I-As from 500 to 650 a day, in five daily shifts, six days a week.

Edwin H. Felt, deputy Selective Service director, said in order to meet the 650-a-day demand, some boards, not yet ordered to report, will start operating soon. Other boards will operate under new schedules.

Vocational Courses In H. S. Are Popular

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 1—(AP)—A trend that began five years ago still is boosting enrollment in Illinois high school students in vocational education courses.

Vernon L. Nickell, state superintendent, said today registrations for the school year ending last June 30 were the largest ever, totaling 98,869.

He gave this breakdown: vocational agriculture, 25,021 enrolled; business education, 5,489; vocational homemaking, 42,151; and trade and industry courses, 26,208.

Teece Loses Reinstatement Suit as General of Guard

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 1—(AP)—Circuit Judge Dewitt Crow today ruled against Joseph A. Teece in his suit for reinstatement as commanding general of the Illinois National Guard.

Teece sought a judgment declaring his right to continue in that office until "death, resignation or retirement."

He contended he was illegally removed as guard commander by Governor Stevenson last March 15. Stevenson ordered Teece, who was appointed a major general in September, 1946, placed on the retired list as a lieutenant general.

Acted Under '47 Law

The governor said he acted under a 1947 change in the tenure law fixing terms of office for high national guard officers. The law set the term for major generals of the line at three years.

Judge Crow held that Teece was limited to three years in the rank of major general from the effective date of the new law, July 24, 1947.

Crow thus held that Teece was removed more than four months before the expiration of his term.

Stevenson had contended that the three year tenure of Teece should be figured from the date of his original appointment, and that his time was up on Sept. 10, 1949.

Teece Will Appeal

D. S. McGaughey of Decatur, attorney for Teece, said Judge Crow's ruling will be appealed.

In his suit, Teece argued that the 1947 tenure law did not apply to him because he was appointed major general prior to the date of its enactment. Judge Crow flatly rejected this contention.

Teece had asked restoration to the position of commanding general of the 44th infantry division, a job he held simultaneously with that as commander of all state guard troops.

Rent Control Issue Before City Council

SHOULD DIXON EXTEND RENT CONTROLS AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1950?

That'll be the issue debated tonight in a public forum immediately after the city council meeting in the council chambers. Debates should start about 8:15 or 8:30.

Mayor J. Fred Hofmann said today the council meeting would be cut short to allow more time to hear pro and con arguments.

The mayor also indicated arguments would be cut short, with each speaker being limited to four minutes.

No decision will be reached tonight. The issue will be considered by the council after tonight's hearing. The council has until Sept. 1 to pass a resolution favoring the extension of rent controls from the first of the year until June 30, 1951.

If the council doesn't pass a resolution, rent controls will expire with the current year, at midnight, December 31, 1950.

George Frey Injured As Train Hits Truck

George Frey, 70, of 1103 Monroe avenue, suffered a deep gash over his right eye when his truck was hit by an Illinois Central freight train at a private crossing in back of his house.

Frey said he didn't see the oncoming train because of high weeds. The weeds have been cut since the accident.

The truck in which he was riding was wrecked completely.

Pusan, Vital To Yanks, Is Next Target

Fresh GI Troops Move Up to Front

Tokyo, Wednesday, Aug. 2—(AP)—North Korean Red forces, exerting heavy pressure in the south, today pushed to within 40 miles of Pusan, U. S. base in southeastern Korea.

Fresh American troops were pouring ashore and moving up to the front. One unit was the fifth regimental combat team from Hawaii.

General MacArthur, in his Wednesday morning Korean summary, released at 12:35 a. m., said the heavy Red pressure covered the southern front.

Head Toward Taegu

But the hardest blows came in the Kochang area, where the Communists were trying to break through to Taegu, South Korean emergency capital. They were about 32 miles southwest of Taegu.

A frontline dispatch from Don Whitehead, Associated Press correspondent in Korea, placed the Reds southern thrust 15 miles west of Masan, which is on the south coast 25 miles from Pusan.

The MacArthur summary, issued a few hours after the United Nations commander returned from Formosa to Tokyo, said UN troops were attacking the Reds around Yongdok on the east coast. U. S. pilots reported the Communists in positions 1,500 yards north of the wrecked city.

"It is possibble that friendly forces have again forced entry into that port city," MacArthur's summary said.

The MacArthur release described the front as running roughly from one mile south of Yongdok to seven miles northwest of Andong to 10 miles southwest of Sangju, one mile southeast of Kwanni, seven miles northwest of Kumchon, four miles northeast of Chirye and six miles southeast of Chinju.

UN Troops Withdraw

The summary spoke of slight UN troops withdrawals but said they were not forced and were made to prepared positions.

Other Red thrusts were developing around Kochang and flanking Hyopchong in the southern sector and at Adong in the north. But no serious gains had been reported at these three points.

The Reds apparently hoped to push United Nations troops off

Politicians Questioned in Crime Probe

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—Two East St. Louis, Ill., witnesses were questioned yesterday by the senate crime investigating committee.

They were John T. English, East St. Louis police commissioner, and Leo J. Dougherty, treasurer of the Illinois Democratic party and a former East St. Louis commissioner.

Chairman Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said both English and Dougherty were indicted in 1946 on charges of lax enforcement of gambling laws in East St. Louis. Kefauver added that the indictments were dismissed and English and Dougherty blamed the charges on political enemies.

Out of Office

The committee chairman said Dougherty, a businessman and contractor, noted that he had been out of office as a commissioner for 14 months at the time of the indictment.

Kefauver said that, in general, English's testimony was that

AP's William Moore Missing; Last Heard at Chinju Battle

U. S. Eighth Army Headquarters in Korea, Aug. 1—(AP)—Associated Press Correspondent William R. Moore has not been heard from since Sunday afternoon when he went to the Chinju battle front.

He last was reported with an element of the 24th division that was split in two by the Red drive. The unit fled Monday morning from Chinju.

Moore left for the Chinju front, on the southernmost flank, Sunday afternoon by jeep.

Moore, 40, was born at Nowata, Okla., and worked on the Daily Oklahoman at Oklahoma City. He joined the Associated Press at Denver in 1937, served in the Army from 1942 to 1946, and rejoined the Associated Press in New York.

Moore had served as a major with the U. S. Army of occupation in Korea. He returned there as Associated Press correspondent in April, 1948. When the war broke out, he was on his way back to Korea from vacation.

Moore has filed a notable series of dispatches from the front.

Betty Hutton and Ex-Hubby Are Back Together and Happy

Chicago, Aug. 1—(AP)—Actress Betty Hutton and her former husband Ted Briskin, who were divorced five months ago after two separations since their 1945 marriage, have reconciled.

"We are definitely back together as of right now," the blond film star said last night.

The couple, parents of two small daughters, did not announce any date for a remarriage. Their interlocutory decree does not become final for seven months.

"I think they will just strike it (the divorce) off," said the 29-year-old Miss Hutton.

Briskin, a Chicago camera company executive, said he had not checked "to see whether or not we have to get married again."

"The most important thing," he told a reporter, "is that we've reached a better understanding. I think we owe it to ourselves and our children to give it another try."

Their daughters, Lindsay, 4, and Candice, 2, have been living with their mother since the divorce.

Jehovah Sect Renews Pledge Against Salute

New York, Aug. 1—(AP)—Massed thousands of Jehovah's Witnesses, from all over the U. S. and from 67 foreign countries, yesterday renewed their pledge not to salute the flag of any nation.

The Witnesses gathered 55,000 strong at Yankee Stadium for the second day of the eight-day International Assembly of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society.

Hayden C. Covington, a San Antonio, Tex., lawyer, said at last night's session that clergymen who have opposed street preaching by the Witnesses are "tools of the devil."

Expect Swift Court Action On Harry Bridges' Bail Plea

San Francisco, Aug. 1—(AP)—Swift action is expected on a government request that a federal court revoke the $25,000 bond which has given Labor Leader Harry Bridges freedom since his conviction last April on perjury and conspiracy charges.

Federal Judge George B. Harris said he will hear arguments on the government's motion tomorrow. The date was set after the bench overruled arguments of Paul Leonard, Bridges' attorney, that more time was needed by the defense to prepare its case.

The Justice Department yesterday asked Bridges' bond be canceled, an action which would send the left-wing Maritime Union official to jail.

In moving that the bail be revoked, F. Joseph Donohue, special assistant to the United States attorney general, described Bridges as a "direct menace to the security of this country."

Affidavits filed by Donohue made extensive reference to Bridges' attitude toward the Korean conflict. It was stated that Bridges has been active in opposing United States and United Nations policy regarding Korea.

SEN. BENTON

Evanston—We have just listened to Sen. Benton on TV's "Meet the Press." His defense of Acheson as our "greatest secretary of state" was disgusting. He did not answer one question with any degree of intelligence or logic. Competition in the advertising business in Connecticut must be awfully feeble if he was a success. Just how naive can a grown man be? Suggesting that if the Chinese communist government were admitted to the U. N. they might come forth and fight the North Korean Commu-ists. Thompson and Dirksen Take Top Roles in GOP Meet

Chicago, Aug. 1 (AP)—Everett M. Dirksen of Pekin and Wallace Thompson of Galesburg, will take leading roles in shaping the 1950 Illinois State Republican platform at the Peoria convention Aug. 11.

Dirksen, nominee for U. S. Senator, will influence the national and international planks. They are expected to reflect his criticisms of Senator Lucas (D-Ill), his November opponent, and the Truman administration.

Thompson, GOP majority leader in the state senate, is expected to write planks calling for economy in state government and criticizing the Stevenson Democratic administration.

Dirksen will give the major convention address. State Rep. Lottie Holman O'Neill of Downers Grove will give the keynote address.

Illinois Democrats plan to hold their main state convention session in September in Chicago, possibly at the Civic Opera House. It will feature Senator Lucas and the state ticket candidates heads.

Fred Merkle Ends Baseball Exile, Returns to New York

New York, July 31 (AP)—"I don't want to come here," the heavy set, grey-haired man sitting in the rear seat of the bus said. "Now I sort of hate to go back."

"It makes a man feel good," Fred Merkle continued, "to hear such cheers after all those years. I don't think I'll forget it. I expected so much worse."

Merkle sat far back in his seat as the bus carrying the 30-odd Giants and Cardinals of yesteryear continued its trip downtown to a restaurant where they were to be feted by the Giants management.

Most of the former stars just had participated in a three-inning old timers' contest for the benefit of 35,000 cheering fans at the Polo Grounds. Among them were such famous baseball names as Mel Ott, Carl Hubbell, Joe Medwick, Pepper Martin, Travis Jackson, Fred Lindstrom, Hughey Critz, Ripper Collins, Bob O'Farrell, Tex Carlton and a host of others.

Merkle did not play. He and Larry Doyle, another of the famous Giants under John McGraw, had been invited as special guests. Neither put on a uniform as the '33 Giants renewed their rivalry with the famous "Gashouse Gang" of St. Louis.

Unhappy Years

"I spent close to 10 years in New York with the Giants," Merkle resumed. "They all were not happy ones. I thought I never wanted to get back. I guess I was wrong."

Merkle was reluctant to talk much about it, but you could tell what he was thinking. He's never been allowed to forget that disastrous afternoon of Sept. 23, 1908 when the Giants lost a pennant because of an alleged blunder pulled by him.

As a refresher, it was Merkle who neglected to run from first to second on a ninth inning single by Al Bridwell that apparently scored Moose McCormick from third with the winning run against the Chicago Cubs.

Called 'Bonehead'

The game was declared a 1-1 tie and ordered replayed. The Cubs won it and beat out the Giants for the flag by one game. New York fans blamed the loss on Merkle. Wherever he appeared after that he was called "Bonehead" Merkle.

The fact that neither McGraw nor the other players blamed Merkle did not alter the opinion of the fans. Even after he helped the Giants win pennants in the years 1911-12-13, they still referred to him as "Bonehead."

"The fact of the matter is," Merkle said ruefully, "what I did was common practice in those days. The same thing probably had been done a half dozen times during the season but nobody ever was called on it. The umpires decided to be technical just when I did it."

Quit For Good

At the end of the 1927 season, he quit the game for good.

For 23 years Merkle exiled himself from big league baseball. Living in Florida, the now 61-year-old retired business man hadn't attended a big league game let alone come to New York.

But in that one moment at the Polo Grounds on July 30, 1950, when 35,000 people cheered wildly all the bitterness of more than four decades was washed away. 1908 seemed far, far away now.

Farm Loan Group Pays Dividends To Lee Farmers

Farmers in Lee County are receiving checks totaling $7,688.00 as dividends on their stock in the National Farm Loan Association of Amboy, according to an announcement made today by Ralph E. Borman, Acting Secretary-Treasurer.

The dividend of seven per cent was declared by the board of directors of the association at its last meeting payable to its member-stockholders of record at the close of business on May 31, 1950.

The payment of this dividend by the association has the effect of reducing the average interest rate paid this year by the association members to 3.512 per cent on the $1,577,245.12 outstanding in mortgage loans, the association's official pointed out.

The dividend payment by this local credit cooperative was made possible by a recent dividend received on its stock in the Federal Land Bank of St. Louis. Thus the association is passing on to its members a portion of the savings made by the cooperative farm mortgage system. The remainder of the dividend paid by the bank will be used to build strong reserves in the association.

Cut Buying of Fertilizer by 20 Per Cent

Urbana—A University of Illinois report issued today showed that total plant food sales for the last six months of 1949 dropped 20 per cent below the same period in 1948, the peak year. But potash sale hit a new record high of 15,000 tons.

This information, which comes from three College of Agriculture agronomists, is based on reports from 43 fertilizer dealers and manufacturers.

They said that Illinois farmers bought 83,000 tons of mixed fertilizers, 32,000 tons of other fertilizer materials, and 250,000 tons of rock phosphate from July 1 to December 31, 1949.

Touby Kurtz, soil fertility authority, says the 20 per cent drop in total sales is not serious. He thinks it happened because the ground was too soft last winter to hold up fertilizer machinery, and also because farm income dropped sharply in 1949.

Kurtz says the record sales of potash are due to the college sponsored soil-testing program showing that Illinois soils are beginning to need potash fertilizers. On the other hand, farmers are coming reasonably close to meeting phosphorus needs.

The mixed fertilizer, 3-12-12, which contains relatively large amounts of both phosphorus and potash, made up more than 55 per cent of total mixed fertilizer sales during the last half of 1949.

Noise Cutdown Adds To Milk Production

Urbana—Cows don't like noise any better than we humans. They generally milk better if it's quiet.

Vincent Kohrs, dairy herd improvement association tester in Clinton county, says one of his members has solved that problem.

Casper Richter has moved the milking machine compressor, with its chug-chug noise, out of the dairy barn into the vestibule. Kohrs says this move has helped to keep a more even production in some of the cows that stood next to the compressor.

Labor Minister of Canada Dies; Was 56

Ottawa, Aug. 1—(AP)—Labor Minister Humphrey Mitchell, in poor health for more than a year, died early today. He would have been 56 on Sept. 9.

A Liberal member of parliament for Welland, Ont., Mitchell had been a cabinet minister since December, 1941. His last public appearance was as an honorary pallbearer last week at the funeral of former Prime Minister W. L. MacKenzie King.

Rome, Aug. 1—(AP)—A small bomb exploded in the entrance to a local moviehouse showing an anti-Communist film last night. Two women were painfully injured in the wild rush of spectators for exits.

It was the second time in a week that a bomb had interrupted the showing of an anti-Communist film.

DEAF MAN PERFECTS MIDGET HEARING AID

Mr. H. A. Lyons of Peoria, Illinois, who himself has been hard of hearing for twenty years, has perfected a new hearing aid that can be worn in secret.

With this small aid, even your closest friends will never know how you hear so perfectly. Voices, the radio and even the ticking of the clock sound natural.

It is suggested if interested for yourself or a friend, write Mr. Lyons at 400 C South Washington Street, Peoria, Illinois. He will be glad to send full information. —Adv.

Spending Holds Food Prices Up, Simerl Reports

Urbana—The main reason food prices are at least twice as high to day as before the war is that people have more money to spend and hence consumer demand is stronger.

So reports L. H. Simerl, University of Illinois agricultural economist. He noted today that in 1950 consumers will have about $1,300 per person to spend. In 1935-39 they had only $510.

Higher food prices are the rule today, even though total supplies are 12 per cent larger than in 1935-39. That figure allows for the increase in population since pre-war days.

Simerl says that, despite larger total food supplies, the per-person consumption of butter, milk, and potatoes is smaller than in earlier years. However, we are eating more meat, poultry, eggs, and turkey per person than in 1935-39. Simerl believes that keeping butter prices high will tend to cut butter consumption further, especially now that butter and margarine makers can use the same color in many states.

The agriculture department says that in 1951 food exports and military needs will probably be no greater than they have been this year or last. Food experts for 1950 may take about 3 per cent of our total supply, and the military about the same. Larger purchases for the military may be about offset by smaller non-military exports.

Soil Conservation Awards Won by Four In Dixon District

Lyle E. Bellows, Dixon, was among the winners of the 1949-1950 Goodyear soil conservation awards announced today by Frank W. Scholl, chairman of the Lee county soil conservation district directors.

Bellows was cited for establishing his farm conservation plan on time. His methods include correct land use, soil treatment, contour strip cropping and farm watercourse establishment.

Elroy and Paul Lauer, Sublette, also were named because of their accomplishments and speed. The Lauers used soil treatment, rotations, terrace strip cropping and contour cultivation.

Frank Taylor, West Brooklyn, was named an outstanding conservation farmer for the proportion of his conservation plan established during his first year on the farm.

All winners will be invited to a state-wide recognition banquet in the fall. State winners are eligible for a trip to Arizona.

Appoint Four to Illinois College Of Agriculture

Urbana—Four appointments to the Illinois College of Agriculture staff were approved by the University's Board of Trustees at its July meeting.

Dr. Alvin H. Beavers, soil conservation service, Alburquerque, N. Mex., was named assistant professor in soil physics. Dr. Roger G. Hansen becomes associate professor in dairy biological chemistry, coming from his former post at the University of Utah. Dr. Lloyd L. Kempe, from the University of Michigan, becomes assistant professor of food engineering. And Dr. Donald E. Becker, formerly of the University of Tennessee, will join the staff as assistant professor of animal science. A fifth appointment, Dr. Ethel McNeil, was made to the College of Veterinary Medicine. Formerly livestock pathologist in San Diego county, California, she becomes associate professor of veterinary pathology and hygiene.

Milking Parlors Becoming Popular

Cows Cooperate in Milking Chore When Done in "Parlor"

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Milking parlors, similar to the type shown, are growing in popularity in many sections of the country. Their growth has been noted in the south, particularly, because of the mild winters.

In operation, cows walk from the barn to the milking parlor. Here they are washed in stalls at the entrance and then move into connecting tandem stalls to be milked. After milking, cows move out the opposite end of the "parlor" and return to the barn. The electrically operated pipe line milker carries the milk directly into the adjoining milk house where it passes into an automatic can filler. Milk is cooled electrically, thus eliminating ice storage and handling problems, and, assuring the farmer of thermostatically controlled, correct cooling temperatures. The milk house also has, among other conveniences, a pressure water system and water heater—both required to help the farmer keep his milking utensils in top sanitary condition. For cleanliness, proper cooling, good management and a healthy herd generally add up to Grade A premium priced milk.

As in other structures where electric time and labor saving equipment is used, milking parlors must be adequately wired and well lighted. Adequate wiring is required if farmers are to get maximum service out of their electrical equipment. And good lighting is necessary, especially in dairy operations, where work is conducted under exacting conditions.

The plan given, also provides for the installation of ventilating fans in both the milking parlor and milk room. Properly ventilated structures are more healthful for both stock and workmen. Ventilation systems also remove excessive moisture from the air, thus saving wooden timbers and metal parts from damage.

Information on the electrical circuits needed for structures of this type, and a key to the electrical symbols used on the plan, appear in connection with the above sketch.

Grass Farmers Welcome Year Of Good Rains

Have we had too much rain so far this year? Your answer probably depends on whether you're a grain or a grassland farmer.

H. A. Cate, from the Dixon Springs Experiment Station of the College of Agriculture, says a drouth year hurts all farmers. But a grassland farmer welcomes a wet year.

In fact, our wet 1950 season has made many farmers think seriously about the advantages of grassland farming.

For instance, at Dixon Springs in Pope county pastures have never looked better, and cattle and sheep are gaining weight as never have before. Some steers, thin when turned out this spring, are gaining as much as 3½ pounds a day, even at the rate of one steer to the acre. And one-third of each acre taken for grass silage has yielded 4 tons an acre.

Pastures have produced gains of about 100 pounds of beef an acre for the first grazing month. One Ladino clover pasture grazed by ewes and lambs produced 145 pounds of gain in one month. Four-months-old lambs marketed from this pasture weighed 90 pounds.

In addition, water has run off grassland slowly, and much of it has soaked into the ground. This moisture should come in handy if the long-range weather forecast for a hot, dry August comes true. Top-soil and fertility are still intact under a fine cover of sod.

On the other hand, many grain farmers found that downpours last winter gullied their wheat fields and washed away lots of soil. A wet spring delayed corn planting, and some bottom land wasn't planted at all because of flooding. Weeds got ahead of corn in many fields because it was too wet to cultivate. In fact, Cate says, some men may wish they had some livestock to use the poor-quality corn they'll have from late planting.

Japs Turn to Spiritual Rehabilitation Against Ruins of Military Might

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Japan, seeking ideological rehabilitation amidst the ruins of her defeated military oligarchy, is beginning to turn towards things spiritual.

This fact is emphasized by the current visit in America of some sixty Japanese leaders—political, business and labor—who are on their way home after attending a moral rearmament conference in Caux, Switzerland. Vice President Barkley made an address of welcome to them in Washington at the week-end, and Chojiro Kuriyama, member of the Japanese diet, addressed the senate.

I had a chat with Mr. Kuriyama in New York and he confirmed that a spiritual movement was under way in his country.

Nippon has been suffering from a low wave of morality. She lost her old ideology in military defeat and the post-war years found her with nothing to take its place.

The result of this ideological vacuum was that Communism rushed in and took advantage of the situation. After all, Communism did at least have a concrete ideology to offer, and plenty of arguments to back it. The result was that many Japanese students turned to the Redism, lacking anything better.

This provided a potent challenge to Japanese leaders who had no use for Communism and saw that they must arm themselves with new ideals if they were to compete with Communism. That was the position when the ideology of moral rearmament began to register in Japan.

M.R.A. stands for absolute moral standards of honesty, purity, unselfishness and love; obedience to the guidance of God, and adequate time daily to find out what it is; the right for sound homes, clean business and politics; and management-labor team-work to produce an abundant economy for all. One of the cardinal tenets of M.R.A. is that one can get specific guidance from God if it is sought.

Mr. Kuriyama said that when the party of sixty departed for the M.R.A. meeting in Caux, the prime minister told them to bring back something new. Well they think they have found "something new" in this spiritual ideology, and Kuriyama told me they were going to encourage its spread, and to build a new leadership through the universities.

The distinguished complexion of this party of sixty is proof enough that a spiritual movement is indeed under way in Japan. However, we shall be too optimistic if we expect an immediate and wholesale change. There is a long, hard fight ahead.

Nations don't experience sweeping ideological changes overnight.

Charles II of England was a quarter Scottish, a quarter Danish, a quarter French and a quarter Italian.

I Visited the Semi-Solid Demonstration Farm at Danville

Here are the facts that impressed me:

1. That 100 lbs. of pork can be produced on a practical, commercial basis on only 330 lbs. of feed on 1029 hogs with a feed cost of only $9.93 in 1949.
2. The uniformity, health and rapid growth of hogs, turkeys, calves and chickens.
3. The equipment and buildings are no better than that on the average farm.
4. The vast amount of research that is used under average farm conditions to improve and develop "E" Emulsion, Sow Emulsion, Pig Emulsion and Kaff-a.

I will be glad to answer your questions about the Semi-Solid System

Reds' March Back to UN Baffling

By returning to the United Nations Security Council, Russia is giving the world one more dramatic lesson in the nature of Soviet diplomacy. The world should mark it well.

The lesson is that Moscow is completely cynical in her dealings with other nations. She may vow over and over at the top of her lungs that she will never take a certain step, and give elaborate reasons why.

Then suddenly Russia may execute a full right-about-face and do the very thing she said endlessly she'd never do.

In this case, the Soviet Union walked out of the Security Council last January in protest against its failure to seat Communist China in place of Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist representative. Through succeeding weeks, Soviet delegates deserted every U. N. agency on which Nationalist China was represented.

Russia shouted in a hundred different ways that she'd never set foot in UN council chambers until Red China was admitted.

Soon afterward the Soviet leaders stooped to the lowest depths of cynicism. Taking advantage of Indian Prime Minister Nehru's well-intentioned desire to mediate the Korean war, Premier Stalin announced that Red China's admission to the UN councils was a necessary prelude to any talk of peace.

Our government turned down Stalin's blackmail terms. Still Moscow persisted, repeating its offer via official radio broadcasts.

One who was foolish enough to take Russian statements at face value would have concluded from this that Russia began the Korean war to get Communist China into the UN.

How fraudulent this pose was can be clearly seen now. A brief telephone call from Jacob Halik, Russia's Security Council representative, to UN Secretary-General Lie, demolished the whole fake facade in a matter of seconds.

Russia came back. Her reasons don't matter, from the standpoint of this lesson in Soviet behavior. What does count is that her reasons are not the ones you'd expect from all the shouting; she didn't gain Red China's admission.

She came back when it suited her intentions of the moment, just as she walked out when it fit her earlier diplomatic strategy. Thus it will always be with Russia.

There may be times when she will really mean what she says. But only the men in the Kremlin will know when, the rest of the world dares not bank on any declaration.

To the world's diplomats and average citizens alike, that is the first and most fundamental meaning of Russia's UN reversal.

Go On, Hoard, and Get Rationing

Bernard M. Baruch, famed elder statesman, proposed drastic mobilization plans when he appeared recently before congress. Even President Truman felt constrained to stress he doesn't think such severe measures are needed yet.

Yet only by a narrow 10 to 9 vote did the house banking committee turn down Baruch's proposals, which include price and wage controls. That close decision is a key to Washington's mood in this crisis. Aroused at last, the lawmakers seem ready for any program they feel might be required to prepare the country for a showdown with Russia.

The vote is an unmistakable warning, too, that much more foolish scare-buying and hoarding will be met by the only action that can halt it—rationing and price ceilings.

John 3.16, Matt. 13 37 43; John 15 1-6

THE KINGDOM AS PERVASION AND INVASION

The Kingdom of God is at your doors! We have seen that when we welcome this invading Kingdom, we welcome the Heavenly Natural, the Homeland of our soul. Jesus said, "The earth bringeth fruit of herself": the soil and the seed are made for each other. The soil of our being and the seed of the Kingdom are affinities. You have tried to grow the poisonous weeds of sin in the soil of your being but the whole process brought not comfort but conflict, not rest but rebellion.

When the child passes from the womb to the outer world [illegible] a world for which he was made, air for its lungs, light for its eyes, food for its stomach, love for its affectional nature and a God for its latent possibilities. The child and the world were made for each other. So you and I are made for the Kingdom.

But Christianity is not merely the awakening of the Kingdom within; it is an invasion of the Kingdom from without. If it were only the first, we should get the interpretation of the nature of the Kingdom by looking within. But the nature of the Kingdom cannot be truly seen by looking within, for we have so overlaid that Kingdom by unnatural ways of life that the interpretation is blurred. Only in the face of Christ do we see the nature of the Kingdom. But we see more than the nature of the Kingdom in Christ. We see what it costs God to get to us in spite of our sin. The Kingdom at our doors is there only because in Christ that Kingdom came down to us through a Resurrection, down to the very threshold of our hearts, there to await our consent for entrance.

Something crucial, something decisive had to happen in history before the Kingdom could stand at our doors. The barriers have been broken down from God's side by His offensive of suffering redemptive love. The cross is therefore the pivot upon which history turns.

Gracious Christ, Thou has come to me at supreme cost. Help me to respond to Thee with all the cost I can pay. For Thy Kingdom knocks with nail-pierced hands at my doors. Help me to open with hands that are willing to be pierced. Amen.

☆ IN HOLLYWOOD ☆

By
ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

Hollywood — (NEA) — I've got a flash for dyspeptic movie exhibitors who have been living off the fat of the popcorn machine and grousing about such old nags as Lana Turner, Betty Hutton and Shelley Winters.

A couple of producers named Sam Spiegel and John Huston have switched a fancy boxcar over to the Hollywood siding and they're ready to load it up with new glamor goods for the ailing box office.

Sam was interviewing a Ginger Rogers blonde when I walked into his office. Casting Director Jack Murton whispered that he had sent her in a bit part in "The Senator Was Indiscreet" and that she had lately been in the cast of the stage musical, "Lend An Ear."

"You understand, my dear, that we are after new people," said Sam.

The blonde smiled. "I guarantee you that mine is a new face, Mr. Spiegel."

Sam drummed his fingers on his desk after Murton ushered her out with the promise that she would be called back. He read

SHOWS GOOD FORM

"Hmmm, she looks a little different," Sam told Murton. "Not body by Fisher and all that stuff."

Number 2 turned out to be a brunette with an Ava Gardner look around the shoulders and Sam indicated the chair she was to take with.

"This is the hot seat, my dear. This is where the current flows."

Murton looked at his notes.

This one, he announced, was 22 years old, weighed 110 pounds and measured five feet, four inches in her stocking feet.

"They tested me at RKO in 1947," volunteered the new contender for movie endowment. "They lost my test, found it, then burned it. They tell me they burn all their screen tests. You'd think they'd call you up and ask you if you want the old things."

Sam went tsk-tsk.

"Very inconsiderate of them," he said. He asked for a photograph that he could keep.

"Please notice," he said, "that I am not keeping the picture of your beautiful knees."

The third girl, all pep and ginger, listened while her vital statistics were read off by Murton.

"Age 21, weight, 102, 5-4, small parts including something in Sam Goldwyn's 'Our Very Own'."

KISSED IN DARK

Sam's ears picked up. "What did you do for Mr. Goldwyn, my dear?"

"Not very much," giggled No. 3. "I was a girl who got kissed when the lights went off in a party scene. Please, may I speak about my role in 'Tarzan and the Slave Girl'? My agent will kill me, but I'm not ashamed of being in that picture. I liked myself."

The conference ended with Miss Eager-Beaver tearing off a scene from "The Little Foxes"—"I'm such a ham," she laughed—and bursted into tears.

Sam seemed touched.

"Here," he said, "take my handkerchief and wipe your eyes. There are people in the outer office. I don't want them to get any wrong ideas."

The final applicant turned out to be a blonde young actress whose name has appeared in gossip columns and who has had several screen credits. Sam explained that he had no prejudice against stock contract players.

"They're more unknown than unknowns."

Sam asked about any film that he might look at and she remembered she had once done a color test with Danny Kaye.

"But it's more Danny than it is me," she wailed.

"Never mind," said Sam. "We don't have a part in this picture for Danny Kaye."

The blonde said goodbye and the bright-eyed, scrapbook-clutching girls were still being shown into Sam's office when I left.

Tourney Tension Tells on Players

By OSWALD JACOBY

In the tension of tournament play many strange contracts and stranger lines of play develop. Players who are models of caution suddenly blossom out with risky bids and foolhardy plays. Players who are known for their enterprising spirit suddenly dry up and allow the opponents to steal the hand at some incredibly low contract.

Today's hand, for example, was played in a recent tournament in a way that would surprise you unless you were used to the strange things that happen to good players when the going gets tough.

The hand was bid to six spades at several tables. This was an excellent contract, but rather difficult to reach.

At one table, a trump was led. This made it very easy for declarer. He won in dummy, ruffed a low club, led another trump to dummy, and ruffed another low club. He then drew the last trump, entered dummy with a diamond, and ran the long and by now established clubs. Six spades with an overtrick gave him a very fine score.

At three tables the West player chose the vastly superior opening lead of the three of diamonds. This happened to knock out the side entry to the clubs.

At one such table declarer took the ace of diamonds, discarded two diamonds on the top clubs, and staked the contract on the heart finesse. When this lost, he was down one.

At another table, declarer hoped for a 2-2 break of the trumps. He took the ace of diamonds, ruffed a low club, led a trump to dummy, and ruffed another low club. When the next trump to dummy disclosed the bad break, declarer knew he was in trouble. He hopefully led both top clubs, but West ruffed and got out a heart with a diamond. South eventually lost two more trick than was going down two.

At the [illegible] table declarer played [illegible] the [illegible] and by the time he had finished a regular club game, [illegible] had removed [illegible] the first trick with the ace of diamonds, he returned a diamond. East won and led a heart, but South put up the ace at once. He then ruffed a diamond in dummy, discarded the hearts on dummy's top clubs, cashed the king of spades, and ruffed a heart to regain the lead. The trumps provided the rest of the tricks.

Voice of the People

LANDLORDS ARE HUMAN

To Editor Telegraph
Dear Sir,

May I join the discussion on the subject of rent control?

Much has been said, mostly by tenants, the majority of whom seem to be able to see only their own side of the question. Many of us who own our own homes invested all our savings in them and worked long and hard to pay off the balance. Some of us who have more room than we need for ourselves, have fitted up small furnished apartments which we offer for rent at rates which are now too low to bring us a fair return on our investment in the property.

You say you have to pay high prices for what you buy; that the cost of living is so high that you cannot afford to pay any more rent! Granted that it would be a hardship for you if rents were doubled; that would be out of all proportion.

But landlords are not buzzards. They are not waiting to pick anyone's bones. I know a landlord who made extensive improvements in his rental units, and applied for and received an increase in rent; but because one of his tenants was ill, he did not ask for the increase in the rent for six months, thereby losing money.

And do not forget that the landlords pay the same high prices for everything they buy that the tenants do. We also pay high taxes on our houses and on furnishings.

We also pay high insurance premiums on our property, and high rates on the utilities we furnish. With coal costing $18 to $20 per ton, what do you think the landlord has left out of the meager rental he receives? Not enough to keep up the repairs on his property.

And besides that it has been my experience that very few tenants take reasonable care of the furnishings in rented apartments, often carrying away with them furnishings belonging to the landlord, so by carelessness and theft, making it necessary to replace furnishings and adding to the expense of maintenance.

You see there are two sides to the question under discussion. In 15 years as a landlord I have evicted but one tenant, and that for gross nuisance practices, after many warnings. Why do you not try taking the same care of your landlords property that you would of your own? Be sure not to take any of it with you when you move and be considerate of the rights of others at all times? That would do a great deal toward keeping your rent at a fair level.

A Landlord

OPPOSES RENT CONTROL

To the Editor
Evening Telegraph.

I am opposed to rent control as it is not fair to landlord. Rents have been frozen for about [illegible] years, while repairs and maintenance of property has went sky rocketing.

Sterling-Rock Falls area have de-controlled rent long ago and has not had to move any tenants out on account of higher rents and is growing.

We have families in Dixon who could afford to buy their own homes but will not as it is cheaper to rent one than to own one, with maintain costs and taxes high.

A Landlord.

By
Westbrook Pegler

Pegler doesn't think much of the U. S. foreign policies.

Westbrook Pegler

New York, Aug. 1 — The futility of the Korean war cannot be concealed and there is no sensible course for the United States but to save as many of our men and as much of our equipment as we can and get out. This certainly would be a defeat in war and the eventual effect might very well be the expulsion of the so-called white man, from the position of racial superiority which we have enjoyed in the Far East for a century and a half.

That, of itself, would be no calamity. It would humiliate us but we have got it coming and we can get over humiliation. Now that we have lost our power to exploit the brown and yellow races, Russia is preparing to exploit them. Very few Americans have any interest in the Orient and it will be very difficult to persuade our people to make the sacrifice that will be required by a total war effort for the purpose of imposing our political preference on China instead of the Russian political preference. We may be driven to it but we will go as the Frenchmen went to the Maginot line in 1939 with lagging feet and the battleground is so far away and the Russian support behind the Orient is so strong that there is fair prospect of victory. We just haven't got what it takes or anyway we are not willing to put out what it will take.

Eventually, I would abandon the imperial political ambitions of the United States, and withdraw into our own country, which is surrounded by water, to support its with a high standard of living, and meanwhile I would build up a fighting organization in all branches as strong as our brains and human and material resources can make it. I would promote a nationalist spirit and revive among Americans the old self-respect and self-confidence which were a thrilling spiritual heritage of my people during my youth. We have let evil politicians put us through an era of self-disparagement and unfavorable comparisons with European cultures and isms and even with the Stalin despotism in Russia. We are down in the mouth and disgusted.

I would "recognize" Spain, the only anti-Communist nation in Europe to redress and abandon a filthy hypocrisy which has shamed us in our mirrors while we have maintained "friendly" relations with the Soviet enemy. Suppose Spain is a "Fascist" nation. What of it? Do we object because Fascism is despotism? That is what we say but we are shameless liars because the Soviet despotism is infinitely more horrible and is our enemy whereas Spain would like to be our friend although we do not deserve her friendship.

For God's sake do we have to race to our doom like mad animals in a stampede? Why doesn't some leader, some Republican or even a Democrat, summon the courage to warn us that we can't beat Soviet Russia in a war in which Russia always has the initiative and has, in addition to a new industrial and mechanical genius, literally millions of dark people to throw onto our bayonets until we are simply overwhelmed?

Many of the good Republicans are sad, weary men but the terrible menace of our present situation should arouse Taft and Ferguson and Wherry and Dewey to absolute furies of exhortation. Even the poor paltry Tydings of Maryland, a Democrat though he is, should have the honor and courage to quit the disgraceful pro-Communist attitude that he assumed merely to protect the sordid reputation of his miserable party, and act the patriot.

What kind of poor damned fools are we when they give out such rubbish as this in the United Nations?

"It is now apparent that the North Korean aggressors have available to them resources far in excess of their internal capabilities. This, with the initial advantage of the aggressor, combines to give the enemy a strength that cannot be overcome until the United Nations forces achieve the effect of superiority in weapons and manpower."

Pick that apart and what does it say? First it says that Russia is using Koreans for cannon fodder to chew up green, ill armed American boys who go to war without a grievance against the enemy. They even lack a grievance against the Communists because a lot of traitors in the Roosevelt-Truman administrations disarmed them of that grievance by their lies told to cover up their own rotten guilt. Remember the "red-herring"? Then it says the enemy's strength can't be overcome "until the United Nations forces achieve the effect of superiority in weapons and manpower." The strength of the United Nations means the strength of the United States. Is the United Nations going to do a thing to help us? It can't because for one reason it has no strength as Stalin very well knows and we know, too.

Can I lay down a foreign policy and a war program to get us out of this fix and defend us against the future? That is an awful lot to ask of anyone after all this criminal betrayal of other countries and our own country by traitors and mountebanks of eternal perfidy and considering the disadvantages of the position in which they put us. They never had any excuse to trust Russia. If the benighted, ignorant Pegler, with less than a high-school education, could appreciate the character of the Kremlin despotism and the Communist conspiracy what excuse have those vile frauds, those Harvard double-domes with their degrees and their jargon, for frittering away our secrets, our genius, our resources and now, finally, our boys and, ultimately, our freedoms?

No. I can't lay down a foreign policy or a war policy guaranteed to win. For that matter I don't see how we can escape an awful going-over even if we do pull back and organize a compact, patriotic nation whose people would recognize a personified enemy and fight him. But we can't win the Korean war even if we should push the roots back to a parallel that nobody ever heard of a few weeks ago. Do that and we have to keep a big army there and then Russia strikes in Greece or the Near East and off we go again. I say let's get home and let's build up the United States. And let's lock up in concentration camps in positions most inviting to Soviet bombers all the Communists and fellow-travelers in the United States. Then improvise from there but always toward the preservation of the United States.

What's RIGHT?

An acquaintance comes to call on you and stays so long that you are beginning to be restless and bored with the visit.

WRONG: Don't try to cover up your feelings, hoping that the visitor will take the hint and leave.

RIGHT: Realize that you cannot be rude to a guest in your home, no matter how bored you may be. So put yourself out to be pleasant and entertaining.

TV Won't Replace Parents For Bringing Up Children

Worried about the effect your television set is having on your children?

If so, you can find some reassuring and good advice on the subject in an article by Elizabeth Hurlock in the current issue of "Today's Health" published by the American Medical Association.

As parents who conscientiously follow Dr. Hurlock's advice ought to have the television problem [illegible].

One of the suggestions for the wise handling of television in the home could apply equally well to other diversions besides TV.

That is: "Television should not be confused with paregoric—it must never be used just to keep children quiet and out of mischief."

SAME IS TRUE OF COMICS

That's as true of comic books as of television. An occasional comic book isn't going to hurt any child. But parents who buy comic books as fast as they are published for their children, just because a kid with a comic book is a quiet kid, are failing down on their job.

So are the parents who use the movies as a place to take care of Junior whenever he happens to be in the way. A good movie occasionally is a fine treat for children—but parking Junior in any old movie any time Mama and Papa want to get rid of him for half a day is a vicious [illegible].

It's silly for parents to permit [illegible] to frustrates that they can't cope with the effect that movies, television and comic books have on their children.

Used wisely and with discretion all three can add to their children's pleasure without harm. It's when the parents themselves come to depend on these forms of amusement for taking care of their children for them that the trouble begins.

Charge Farmer Bought Young Wife for $700

Vancouver, B C, Aug 1 (AP) -Police today accused a 71-year-old farmer of buying a 17 year-old girl for $700.

The farmer, the girl's 16-year-old brother and a sister-in-law were charged with contributing to juvenile delinquency by "aiding and abetting a fraudulent marriage contract."

Their names were withheld pending further investigation

Police said this is the way the deal worked:

At the wedding ceremony here last Friday, the girl's brother posed as the bridegroom and the farmer represented himself to be her father.

After the so-called marriage, the elderly man took the girl as his wife and turned over the $700. Investigators said $500 was to go to the girl's mother and $200 to the brother, but added that the mother was unaware of the arrangement.

Truman Wants More Billions To Fight Reds

Washington, Aug. 1— (AP) — President Truman told congress today that world peace has been endangered by the Korean crisis and asked it to vote quickly $4,000,000,000 of new money to arm anti-Communist allies.

Speed in getting production of military equipment under way is imperative the president said in a letter to House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) formally asking for the money.

Truman added:

Must Defend Security

"It is now clear that the free nations must accelerate the efforts they are making to strengthen their common security.

"They now have no alternative but to increase rapidly their preparedness to defend the principles of international law and justice for which the United Nations stand. This course provides the best hope of deterring future calculated outbreaks against the peace of the world."

Truman had advised congressional leaders at a White House conference yesterday that he would ask for the $4,000,000,000.

The reaction in congress indicated there was general sentiment to provide it.

Demand Cooperation

However, the senate took occasion, in acting on another foreign aid measure, to serve notice that it thinks the time has come for the nations to stand up and be counted in the fight against Communism.

It did this by writing into a $4,765,000,000 one-package appropriations bill power for the president to cut off economic recovery funds from any country that refuses help for the United Nations fight in Korea.

There were also rising demands for arms aid to nations outside the Atlantic Pact.

There are many senators who want, for instance, to help Spain.

The $4,000,000,000 Truman asked would be in addition to the $1,222,500,000 already authorized for the second year of the foreign arms aid program.

Most for Europe

Most of the new money would be spent to strengthen western Europe.

Truman gave this break-down of the proposed spending in his letter to Rayburn:

$3,504,000,000 "for strengthening the security of the North Atlantic area"

"The security of this area is of paramount importance to the strength of the entire free world," he said

$193,000,000 "to accelerate and increase the important programs of military assistance to Greece, Turkey and Iran."

$303,000,000 "to increase and accelerate military assistance to the republic of the Philippines and to other nations in southern and eastern Asia."

"These funds, added to the amounts already provided and to the resources supplied by other nations, will aid in bringing our common defensive strength more quickly to the level now shown to be necessary," Truman said.

Tam O'Shanter Owner Too Ill For Court Quiz

Chicago, Aug. 1—(AP) Proprietor George S May sent word by his attorney Monday that he is too ill to appear before a grand jury investigating his Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

The attorney, C. Vernon Thompson, told Chief Justice Julius H. Miner of criminal court that the investigation to determine whether there was gambling at the club aggravated an ailment of May's heart.

May had been subpoenaed by the grand jury for appearance. Also directed to appear were Harvey McNamara, president of the National Tea Company and a Tam O'Shanter board member, who didn't show up, and two club executives, Edward Rezek and Matt Niesen, who did.

In court, Attorney Thompson offered to produce a physician's affidavit that May is a sick man Edmund Grant, assistant state's attorney, insisted the doctor should appear in person to testify as to May's condition. It was agreed the physician would appear in court tomorrow.

The grand jury investigation is an aftermath of a raid on the Tam O'Shanter Club in which state's attorney's police seized some slot machines.

SPOTLIGHT on SPORT

By MARSH JONES
Sports Editor

THE FEUD IS ON AGAIN . . . It broke out in the City league meeting held at the VFW club last night and interrupted the proceedings with surprising regularity . . . Russ Shuck and Art Carlson were separated by yours truly, but we had more hands and more threats waved in our direction than the league president should have allowed . . . We'd suggest a special police escort for the next meeting.

• • • •

THE SHUCK ALL-STARS will play Carlson's All-Stars next Sunday night . . . It almost certainly will bring a season's high in everything from competition to the size of the crowd . . . Shuck's City Stars upset Carlson in the only game played between the two clubs to date . . . The demand for a replay has been strong since that Sunday night . . . Carlson is so desirous of winning that he has decided to pay "Bullet" Kirk a bonus of one dollar for each strikeout.

• • • •

REYNOLDS WIRE WILL play the Williamson Motor baseball club at Reynolds Field Thursday night in a twilight game . . . Armand Rogelle has been informed that the Williamson team is a newly formed Rockford outfit and includes most of the better players from that city . . . The game is scheduled to start at 5:30 p. m.

• • • •

THE DIXON MERCHANTS give indications of becoming a real power in the baseball circles of this area . . . They are a young and improving club under Manager Pooyer Kelley . . . Fans who attended the Sunday victory over Rock Falls probably didn't realize that the boys washed off the bleachers and cleaned up the field before the game . . . An ambitious club is tough to stop.

• • • •

JACK BURKE, JR., finished out of the money in the St. Paul Open over a week ago . . . He made the trip to the Sioux City Open golf tourney two days early and did nothing but practice putting . . . He didn't touch another club in all his warmup sessions . . . Result: $2,600 richer and the Sioux City Open title . . . His 268 score was 20 strokes under par for the four rounds.

Important Games Face Softball Squads

Cigarmen Play Lindquist Nine On Wednesday

Softball play at Reynolds Field enters one of its most important weeks today. Church league play sends top teams Grace and Baptist into action against Christian and Bethel tonight. The Grace and Baptist outfits are heavily favored but a defeat for either would weigh heavily in the outcome of the league.

• • •

Wednesday night's City league play brings us to the top game of the week. United Cigar, leading the City loop, meets second place Lindquist in the second game of the evening. Raynors and Ashton open the night.

• • •

The rivalry is strong between United and Lindquists. This game could be one of the best of the year. Manager Russ Shuck of United sends a powerful team on the field to face Manager Bob Tourtillott's Lindquist nine. The game may turn into a mound duel between United's Flash Fordham and Lindquist's Eddie Poore.

Baptist vs. Grace

Thursday evening is a real drawing card in the Church league. Tabernacle W. Side, the most improved club in the circuit, meets St. Paul's in the first game. The Grace and Baptist outfits, tops in the loop all season, tangle in the feature tilt.

The surprising Merchants slug it out with the VFW on Friday night in City competition. Fezzis meet the Moose club in the second game.

Sox Top Cubs, Dixon Defeats Amboy Amvets

The Amvet Junior baseball All-Star games drew approximately 400 fans to Reynolds Field last night. Playing on a slightly cut down field, under the lights, the Minor White Sox whipped the Cubs by a 7-6 margin. The major Dixon All-Stars defeated Amboy by a 17-2 margin. Both contests were held to five innings. The games were part of a program donating a respirator to the people of Dixon.

The Cubs rallied in the last of the fourth for a total of four runs and tied the game at 5-5. The Sox added two in their half of the fifth and the Cubs could gain only one.

The White Sox had a total of three hits and the Cubs got five. Garrison and Cushing collected two hits each for the losers. Thomas, Pressnell and Conlon hit safely for the winners.

The Major Dixon All-Stars took a one-run lead over Amboy in the first and boosted it to 6-0 in the second inning. They pulled steadily away from the visitors throughout the rest of the game.

Bob Willard banged out three hits and scored twice for the winners. Lawrence Dunseth had three hits and four tallies and Don Wakely homered in the second.

Yankees and Tigers Play for First Place Spot Tonight

BY JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

First place is the prize tonight as the rising New York Yankees and the slumping Detroit Tigers clash in the first of a "crucial" three game series.

A capacity crowd of 55,000 is expected at Briggs Stadium to watch the mound duel between southpaw Tommy Byrnes of the Yankees and righthander Art Houtteman of the Tigers.

• • •

A Yankee victory would put Casey Stengel's men back at the top of the American league for the first time since June 9. It was on that day that the Tigers wrested the lead from New York. They have kept it for 51 days despite some trying times.

• • •

Manager Stengel, confident of victory, is leading with his most effective pitcher against the Tigers in an effort to get the jump. Byrne has beaten the Bengals four times without a defeat this season and holds a lifetime 12-3 mark against them.

Houtteman, steadiest Tiger hurler, has a 3-2 mark against New York for the year. His lifetime mark is 8-5.

There were no games in the American league yesterday but the National league picture changed somewhat when the Boston Braves defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3, and the Chicago Cubs whipped the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8-5.

Braves Moves Up

Walker Cooper's single off Tommy Glaviano's glove in the last of the ninth drove in Earl Torgeson with the run that gave Boston the victory and moved the Braves into second place past the Cardinals. The Braves now trail the pace - setting Philadelphia Phils by three games. The Cards are three and a half games behind and the fourth place Dodgers lag by four and a half.

Warren Spahn went the route for his 13th victory. He gave up six hits and fanned four to increase his league leading strikeout total to 152. Max Lanier was the loser.

Cubs Rally

The Cubs overcame a 5-1 deficit. They tallied three times in the sixth to knock Dan Bankhead. Two straight hits finished Chris Van Cuyk in the seventh. Rex Barney relieved, gave up three bases on balls and uncorked a wild pitch to set up a four-run inning for Chicago. That was the game.

Frank (Dutch) Hiller, who needed help in the seventh, won his fifth game, three over Brooklyn. Van Cuyk was the loser.

Flyweight Title At Stake Tonight In Honolulu Bout

Honolulu, Aug. 1—(AP)—Terry Allen of London and Dado Marino of Honolulu battle tonight for the championship of the little men—the 112 pounders.

It's a match which may return the world flyweight title to the United States for the first time in 20 years.

Allen, the champion is fast, tricky and only 26.

Marino, the challenger, looks the heavier puncher and is a battle-scarred 34.

The bout is scheduled to begin at about 9:15 p.m., Honolulu time (1:15 a.m., CST).

Managers of the fighters say each is in top shape for the 15-round test but neither believes it will go the full distance.

Manager Sad Sam Ichinose predicts Marino will lift the title with a knockout by teh seventh.

Manager Johnny Sharpe says the champion will stop the island challenger between the 11th and 13th rounds.

Marino has never been stopped. Allen was kayoed once.

Recreation Alleys To Have Thursday Afternoon League

By FRIDAY

A bit of good news for Dixon's professional and business men for this winter, comes with the announcement by Ken Detweiler of a Thursday afternoon bowling league for this group who like to take part in the kegling sport but are unable, due to evening hours or appointments.

After many requests for a loop catering to these men, whom are free on Thursday afternoon, Ken has decided on an eight-team league, to start, probably, at 1:15 p. m. for one spell at the Recreation alleys.

Already numerous members have turned in their names and the teams and schedule will be drawn up in the near future.

If any of the bowlers free on Thursday afternoon desire to bowl on a team or enter a team of their own they should turn their names in to Ken as soon as possible before the vacancies are all filled.

Until the alleys are open Ken may be reached at home, by Dialing 3-4962.

Robinson Hits .370 to Lead National Loop

New York, Aug. 1—(AP)—Jackie Robinson holds a nine-point edge on Stan Musial in his battle to retain the National league batting title.

Back home at Brooklyn, Robinson boosted his average two points last week to .370. Musial advanced one point to .361, but it wasn't a good week for the St. Louis slugger. The Brooklyn hurlers stopped his consecutive hitting streak at 30 games.

Jake Mintz Tabs Louis as Tough Foe for Charles

By JIM HOLTON

Pittsburgh, Aug. 1—(AP)—Check those tears of pity for "poor old" Joe Louis, fight fans. Jake Mintz says you've got it all wrong.

Jabbering Jake—the excitable ex-dancer who handles the affairs of NBA Heavyweight Champion Ezzard Charles—wants a little sympathy for his boy, who's due to face the former fight king in the fall.

• • •

"The way everybody talks you'd think Louis will have a tougher time fighting his condition than fighting Charles," sputtered Jake.

"In fact," Mintz went on, it's the other way around. Ezzard's got a lot tougher training problem than Louis."

• • •

Then he launched into his argument:

"Louis never really retired. And everybody in the right game knows it. How can you call knockouts in scheduled 10-round bouts "exhibitions?"

"Lee Oma ran out on Louis in Detroit and his manager, Tex Sullivan, said that billing the fight as an exhibition was ridiculous.

"Look what Louis did to Pat Valentino. He kayoed him in the eighth the same round Charles did in a legitimate title fight—but he gave him a worse lacing, and with 16-ounce gloves.

"That was simply to prove that he was tougher than Ezzard.

Boxed Daily

"He boxed nearly every day in that 'exhibition tour,' then he went to South America where he did the same thing. He came home, joined a circus and fought, sometimes, twice a day.

"Louis in the last year has been the most active heavyweight in the history of the game."

Then Mintz turned to Charles' troubles. Said he:

"As everybody knows, Ezzard has been doing nothing for the last four months because of his heart injury. I won't say he's out of shape—because he never lets himself get that way.

"But he's off his timing and out of practice. He should be okay for the Freddie Beshore fight (in Buffalo August 15), but he'll have lots of work to do on himself after that."

Charles has begun his pre-Beshore workouts in his own gym in Cincinnati. He now scales about 185, but expects to shave some three pounds before he and his retinue move to Buffalo about August 8.

Our National Debt

256 THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS

What Does It Mean to You?

- It is difficult to comprehend a million of anything; it is more difficult to understand or visualize 256 Thousand Million.
- To bring our national debt into tangible comprehension, this page is set in dollar signs. If there were no reading matter the page would contain 46,080 dollar signs. Try to count them!
- Placed end to end, enough pages to represent the number of dollars in the national debt would make a continuous strip 1929 miles long, or roughly the distance from Detroit to Flagstaff Arizona.
- Two Hundred and Fifty Six Thousand Million Dollars would provide a new low priced car for EVERY PERSON in the United States.
- Two Hundred and Fifty Six Thousand Million Dollars would provide a brand new $6,000 house for EVERY FAMILY in the United States.
- At $50 a week, one million people would have to work continuously for 100 years and turn their entire earnings over to the government to pay off the debt.
- Such is the enormity of our national debt.
- A national debt is not so many figures on a piece of paper. It represents the obligation of all the people—you and every man, woman and child in the land. Interest has to be paid on the national debt. The more debt, the more interest; the more interest, the more TAXES.
- Experts estimate that every family in this country pays approximately $317 a year in hidden taxes besides Federal income and various state, county and city taxes.
- Taxes can destroy the country—your country. Warn your Senators and Representative that you want the utmost economy in government. Use the blank on this page; fill it in and mail today.

Central local time—listings fit either daylight or standard unless noted.

New York, Aug. 1—(AP)—A radio organ, pipes and all, heard coast to coast on many an occasion the past 17 years, is going to West Point to spend the rest of its career. It is being installed in the chapel, where its music will become the private possession of the nation's future army officers.

The organ, presented to the military academy by NBC, had special quarters in the Radio City studios. It was set up in 1933 at a cost of more than $20,000. Rated as the finest of the concert type instruments, it was used for concert and religious program as well as solo broadcasts. The person who played it more often than almost anyone else was George Crook, who at one time had a regular program series.

Pending completion of the transfer, no date has been set for the formal presentation.

Further indications that the television receiver total will reach the estimated 10,000,000 by year-end is given in the current compilation by the NBC researchers. It shows a national total of 6,510,500 as of July 1, including the 296,400 added in June.

Since then the July output is estimated to have outstripped the June figure considerably. This unanticipated spurt in purchases is being attributed to the Korean situation, possibly being induced by a fear of a curtailment of civilian production.

Attlee Tells Britons To Tighten for Fight

Chequers, Eng., Aug. 1—(AP)—Prime Minister Attlee called on Britons last night to tighten their belts once again while their country arms against Red aggression.

In a blunt-spoken radio chat from his official country residence here, Attlee warned his countrymen that this rearmament will mean sacrifices in their standard of living, which has just begun recovering from the ravages of World War II.

Ever Wonder Just What Makes Up an Army? Marlow Gives You the Complete 'Low Down'

By JAMES MARLOW

Washington, Aug. 1—(AP)—You'll be reading about the Army for a long time: about divisions, battalions, regiments, platoons, companies and squads. But do you know how an Army is made up?

It's like a pyramid standing on its nose. It starts small and spreads out as it moves up toward the top. At the peak of World War II the Army had 8,000,000 men. Now it has only 596,000, a skeleton of its old self.

This is how the Army is built:

Squad—The smallest unit. Ten or 12 men. Commanded by a sergeant, assisted by a corporal.

Platoon—Four squads, with a total of about 48 men. Commanded by a first or second lieutenant.

Company—Four platoons. Total of around 200 men. Commanded by a captain.

Battalion—Four companies. Total of around 1,000 men. Commanded by a major or a lieutenant colonel.

(Why does a company have 200 men but a battalion of four companies have about 1,000? Because the larger the outfit, the more extra men, or specialists, are needed to handle its problems.)

Regiment—Three battalions. About 3,000 men. Commanded by a colonel.

Division—This is where the spread-out really begins. A division has around 18,000 men and is commanded by a major general, assisted by a brigadier general.

A division is made up of three regiments, plus a heavy tank battalion, a medical battalion, field artillery, and various companies of specialists, such as military police, telephone experts, and so on.

A division is the smallest self-sustaining outfit in the Army. That is: It's supposed to have all the supplies, tanks, guns, and specialists it needs to operate by itself in enemy territory, independently.

Army corps—Made up of three divisions. Commanded by a Lieutenant general.

An Army—Made up of three Army corps. Commanded by a full general.

An Army group—This can consist of any number of armies. Commanded by a general.

The Army—This is the whole business, made up of all the armies. Its present commander is General J. Lawton Collins, chief of staff.

At the peak of World War II we had 89 divisions. Now we have 19. These 19 and their locations are:

Second armored, third infantry, 11th airborne, and 82nd airborne, all in this country; seventh infantry, Japan, first infantry, Germany; the 2nd, 24th and 25th infantry divisions and the first cavalry division (really an infantry division), now in Korea.

Short of Men

What has been explained here—total number of men per company, per battalion, per regiment, per division and so on—is the ideal structure of the Army. It doesn't mean that all this is the actual set-up now. The Army doesn't have enough men to have perfect strength all along the line.

In reading this you may note that the total Army is 596,000, but we have only 19 divisions with a maximum total strength of only 180,900 men. So you may wonder where the rest of the 596,000 are.

The Army has far more men than show in divisions. For example, the Pentagon building here is loaded with Army men, all doing special work for the Army, needed to run the whole show.

These include staffs to handle money, personnel, military police, weapons, trucks and transportation, supplies, communications, chemical warfare, and so on.

The Army Theory

But the story wouldn't be complete without this explanation—the theory behind the Army structure goes like this:

When foot soldiers, the infantry riflemen, advance toward the enemy, they must be supported by men behind them with heavier weapons, shooting over their heads to soften or wipe out the foe.

This set-up starts down with the smallest unit—the squad, which, in addition to its riflemen, has several men handling a Browning automatic gun—and it goes on up the line:

A platoon has a machine gun and a couple of bazookas, a company has mortars and recoilless rifles; and so on up to a division which has tanks and field guns.

This is just a part of what the well-equipped division should have: 7,474 small rifles (carbines), 6,913 rifles, 557 bazookas, 124 mortars, 900 machine guns.

Bank Cashier Is Short $186,000 Says FDIC Office

Minooka, Ill., Aug. 1—(AP)—The Farmers First National Bank here has a $186,000 shortage, it was learned yesterday. The bank's cashier shot and killed himself last week.

The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation in Washington said last night it had been advised of a shortage of approximately $186,000 at the bank. The agency insures the bank deposits of individuals up to $5,000.

The FDIC said there will be no loss to any of the bank's depositors.

Last Thursday, Wendell Dirst, 57, cashier of the bank and an employe for 37 years, killed himself with a shotgun while he was alone in the bank. Coroner W. Clark Davis of Grundy county reported he left a suicide note. Davis declined to make its contents public, however.

An FDIC offical said the agency is considering merging the Minooka bank with one at either Morris or Joliet, Ill. He said there also is a possibility that the Minooka bank might be reorganized into a new one. Whichever course is followed, the official said, there will be no interruption of normal banking business at Minooka.

Minooka is 15 miles southwest of Joliet and 50 miles southwest of Chicago.

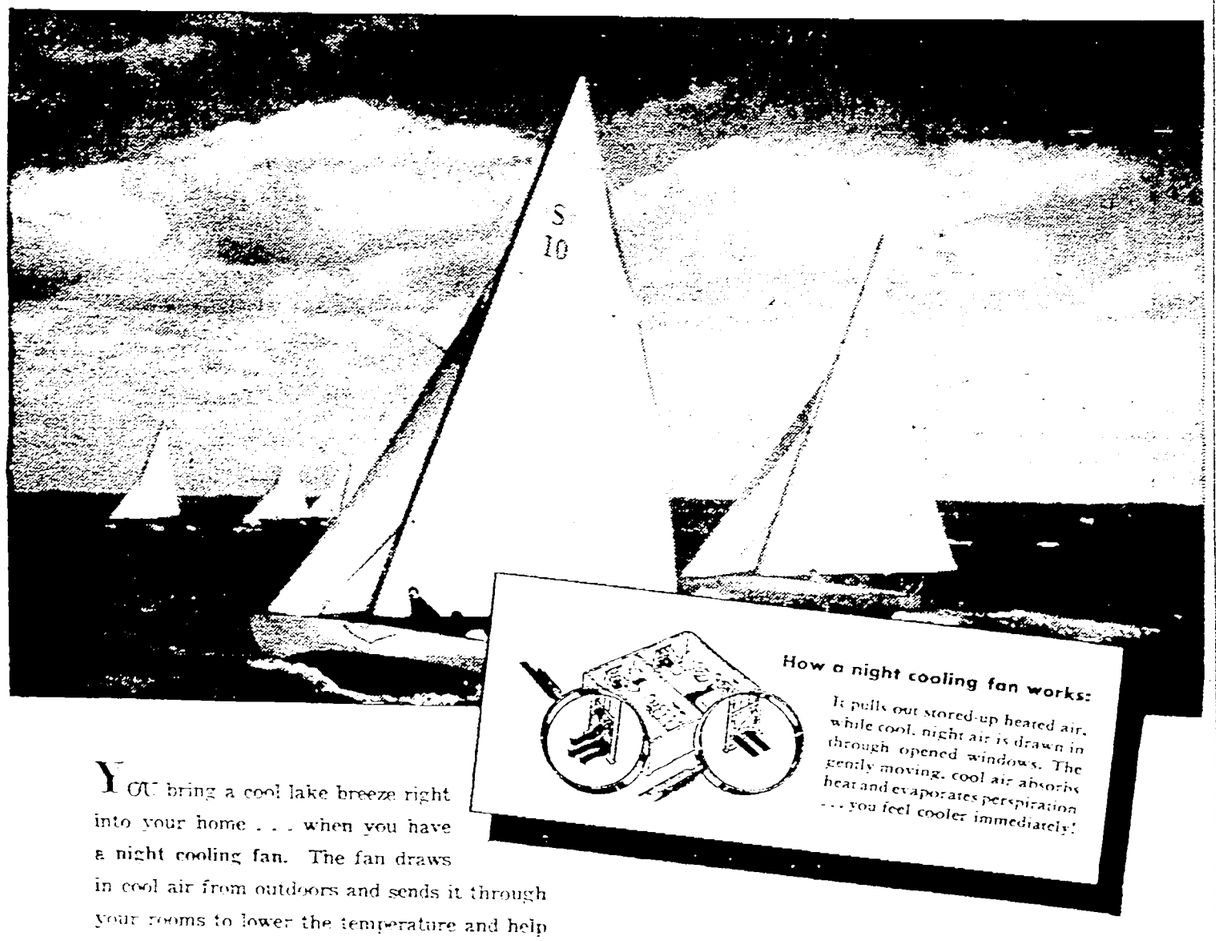
Bring a cool lake breeze into your bedroom
...with a night cooling fan!



YOU bring a cool lake breeze right into your home . . . when you have a night cooling fan. The fan draws in cool air from outdoors and sends it through your rooms to lower the temperature and help you feel cooler. As the moving air passes over your skin, moisture is evaporated quickly . . . and you feel comfortably cool. Best of all, you can sleep in comfort . . . no more tossing and turning on hot summer nights. A night cooling fan will keep your whole house comfortable all night long for less than the cost of an ice cream cone. There's a night cooling fan for your home . . . find out about it today.

There's a Night Cooling Fan for your home

You can choose from several types of night cooling fans. An easily-installed window fan cools all the rooms on one floor perfectly. A permanently installed attic fan is recommended for larger homes.

When you touch the accelerator and hit the road for your fun spot, be sure your engine is firing Gulf No-Nox Ethyl Gasoline.

No-Nox gives your car the "oomph" it needs when climbing hills and when passing on the straightaway. Important, too: it burns clean, fires evenly, gives higher mileage per gallon.

You can depend on No-Nox to give you the tops in driving satisfaction because it is tailor-made for today's cars. So . . . stop and have your car filled up with No-Nox — that good gasoline at the Sign of the Gulf Orange Disc.
